Mardi Gras Weekend

Mardi Gras Weekend was very entertaining this year. Having lost money in the Oktober fest Concert with the Ozark Mountain Daredevils, the Student Union was financially unable to hire Pure Prairie League for the Mardi Gras major concert, as it had originally planned to do. Instead, performances were given by Gene Cotton and the Robbin Thompson Band on Friday. The night before, Thursday, Natural Bridge brang Longwood students to shouting applause in the Red-White-and-Green rooms. On Saturday, during dinner, a concert was given by the Greg Greenway band. That night the Fat Ammons Band put out a first-rate performance for the students in the lower dinning hall in the form of a Mixer. The next night, Sunday, brought the Performing Arts Series with the Howard Hanger Jazz Fantasy, which brought Mardi Gras Weekend to a close.

Spring Weekend

Spring Weekend was a huge success. The main event highlighting the festivities was the inaguration of Dr. Greenwood. Mrs. Maria Silviera added her special touch by creating a 400 pound masterpiece out of cake. Several others besides Mrs. Silviera went out of their way to create a memorable weekend for Dr. Greenwood and Longwood's Students. The weekend took alot of planning on the part of the Student Union, faculty members, and staff. Their dedication made it well worth the effort to the rest of us.

The entire weekend was a mirage of happenings as everyone was entertained by: "Scott Jones", "Sandcastle", "Bermuda Triangle", "The Dazzle Boys", and "The Toons". In addition to all of the concerts given, there were picnics, parties, and curious highschool seniors wandering all over the campus in anticipation of the comming year. They found that without a doubt — Longwood is the place to be.

"She's Dynamite!"

This was the label given to Dr. Greenwood on the subject of her presidency during the inagural ceremonies on April 17, 1982. Dr. Greenwood's own speech was composed of comments about the many goals she hopes to reach during her presidency at Longwood College. The Virginia, with the help of Don Winkler, highlights some of these goals.

The Prez Sez:

"Longwood must be especially concerned with preparing students not only for earning a living but also for learning how to live . . . and for learning how to live a complete life, a fulfilling life in the 21st century. It is one thing to teach students to earn their bread; it is another to make every mouthful sweeter."

In addition to the work skills and the communication and economic skills that are vital to financial success, Dr. Greenwood proposed that the following become objectives of a Longwood education:

— Technological skills, especially computer literacy, so that our graduates can move easily into the technological society . . .

— The sadly neglected skills of rearing a family and relating effectively to that family.

— A sense of history, so they will see our problems as a part of the total human experience and understand something of what yesterday teaches us about tomorrow.

— A world consciousness, so they can recognize that the needs of one person and one nation are related to the needs of other persons and nations.

— And a sense of direction, if not a meaningful philosophy of life, so they will know where they are going and why. This is the deepest and most fundamental craving that most of us have . . . a craving which includes the ability to dream dreams and be unafraid to try to make those dreams come true.

Longwood Lives

The year began in a rush of boxes, suitcases, stereos, posters, and hellos, as we got settled in for the school year. It was good to greet old friends and new. We celebrated the occasion with the traditional-zest and the year began.

The months sped by. We attended sporting events, plays, concerts, mixers and other activities when we could spare the time from our studies. Our whole reason for being at Longwood.

To conclude the year we spent hours and hours studying for the exams that were inevitable. We left with a rush of our personal belongings to our cars by either stairway or elevators and instead of cheerful hellos we had tearful goodbyes. Some of our friends left before we managed to, and we didn't get a chance to say goodbye, but wherever they are we are sure they know the way we feel.

You Can Do What You Want . . . Just Don't Get Caught!

Our parents taught us not to stare, and not to point,
Our friends didn't want us to cheat on our diets or talk too long on the phone,
The college ordered us not to have pets, not to rollerskate down hallways, and not to practice our guppy routine — indoors.
Lucky for us we learned early in life that it's not wether or not you choose to misbehave . . . it's wether or not you choose to be caught.

That's Entertainment!

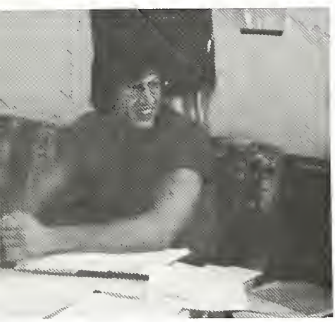
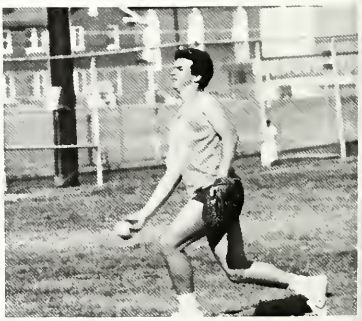
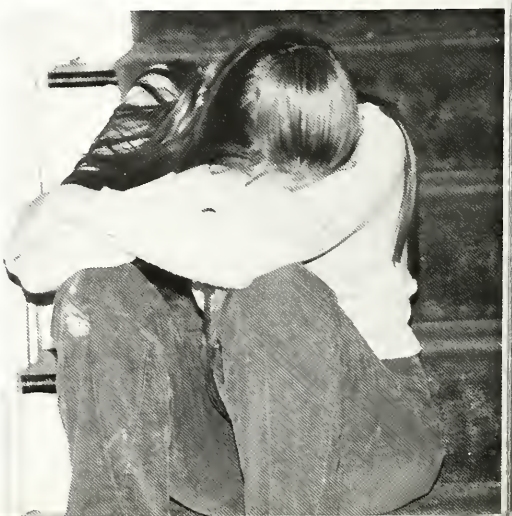
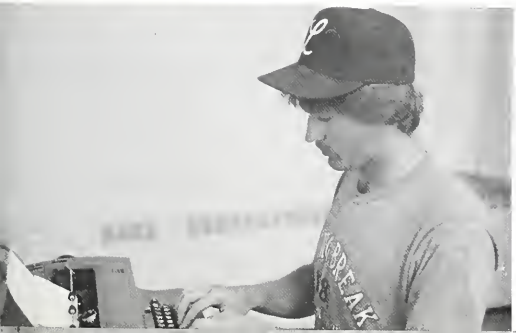
"Taking It Easy . . ."









"All Night Long!"

1982 SUPERDANCE

For days, participants in the Superdance, a fund raiser for Muscular Dystrophy, ran around attempting to find people who would sponsor them in this event. When the big night finally came, these students were ready to "boogie all night long." The dance began at 9:00 p.m. as a mixer, and when this was over, many students went home to bed. But for those participating in the Superdance, the night had only just begun. Throughout the long night, the endurance waned, but was held up by the good dancing music that was played. When dawn finally hit the campus, spirits revived and the adrenaline got pumping. Morning slowly turned to afternoon, and finally, 3:00 p.m. rolled around. For all their hard work, these participants in the Superdance had raised $5,200 for the fight against Muscular Dystrophy. These Longwood students had indeed "reached out and touched" those in need of help for this disease.

Longwood Men: The Top Three

Darryl Balderson, the most desirable man at Longwood (right), felt "surprised" at being selected Mr. Longwood by votes from other students at Longwood. "I guess I'm lucky," he said. "I didn't expect it." At 5'11" and 155 pounds, the most important thing in Darryl's life are his friends. His major goals in life are "to travel and keep in touch with all my friends, and to have a beach house with a Ferrari in the garage."

Close in second place was Mr. George Elliot (top, right), who felt "over-whelmed" at being selected one of the top three. "I envy the young man who beat me," he said. Mr. Elliot's height, "When I was young and handsome," was and still is 6'2", and his weight is about 168 pounds. I've always been this size." From one to ten, Mr. Elliot rates himself as a "ten! Ha Ha! Sorry, Bo Derick. No, maybe I should say sorry, Burt Reynolds!"

In third place was Richard Vaught (left). Richard felt "very shocked" at being chosen one of L.C.'s top males. If Richard had one day during the month all to himself, he would "get the best looking girl on campus, get the best bottle of wine you could buy, head to the most romantic place on Earth, and let nature take its course."

Other Longwood men nominated by Longwood women included (in order of votes received): Guy deLadurantaye, Gary Cunningham, Carl Ellis, David Mitchell, Dallas Bradbury, David Rumburg, and Butch Crotty.

Fame!

Miss Longwood 1982

The judges for the Miss Longwood Pageant looked for style, grace, poise, smile, and over-all talent when they were judging the contestants. Intelligence and beauty were also important factors in the selection of Miss Longwood. Out of the nine contestants in the 1982 Miss Longwood Pageant, Miss Margi Janger took not only the Miss Longwood title, but also the separate awards of Miss Congeniality and Most Talented. Miss Janger was sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi Social Sorority, and her talent was a gymnastics exhibition. The second runner-up was Leigh Ann Goddin, sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and the third runner-up was Katherine Tillar, sponsored by Kappa Delta Sorority.

The other six lovely contestants were Karen Yvonne Baker, Ellen Beasley, Clara M. James, Dawn Perdue, Amy Jo Poor, and Georgia Mae Staley.

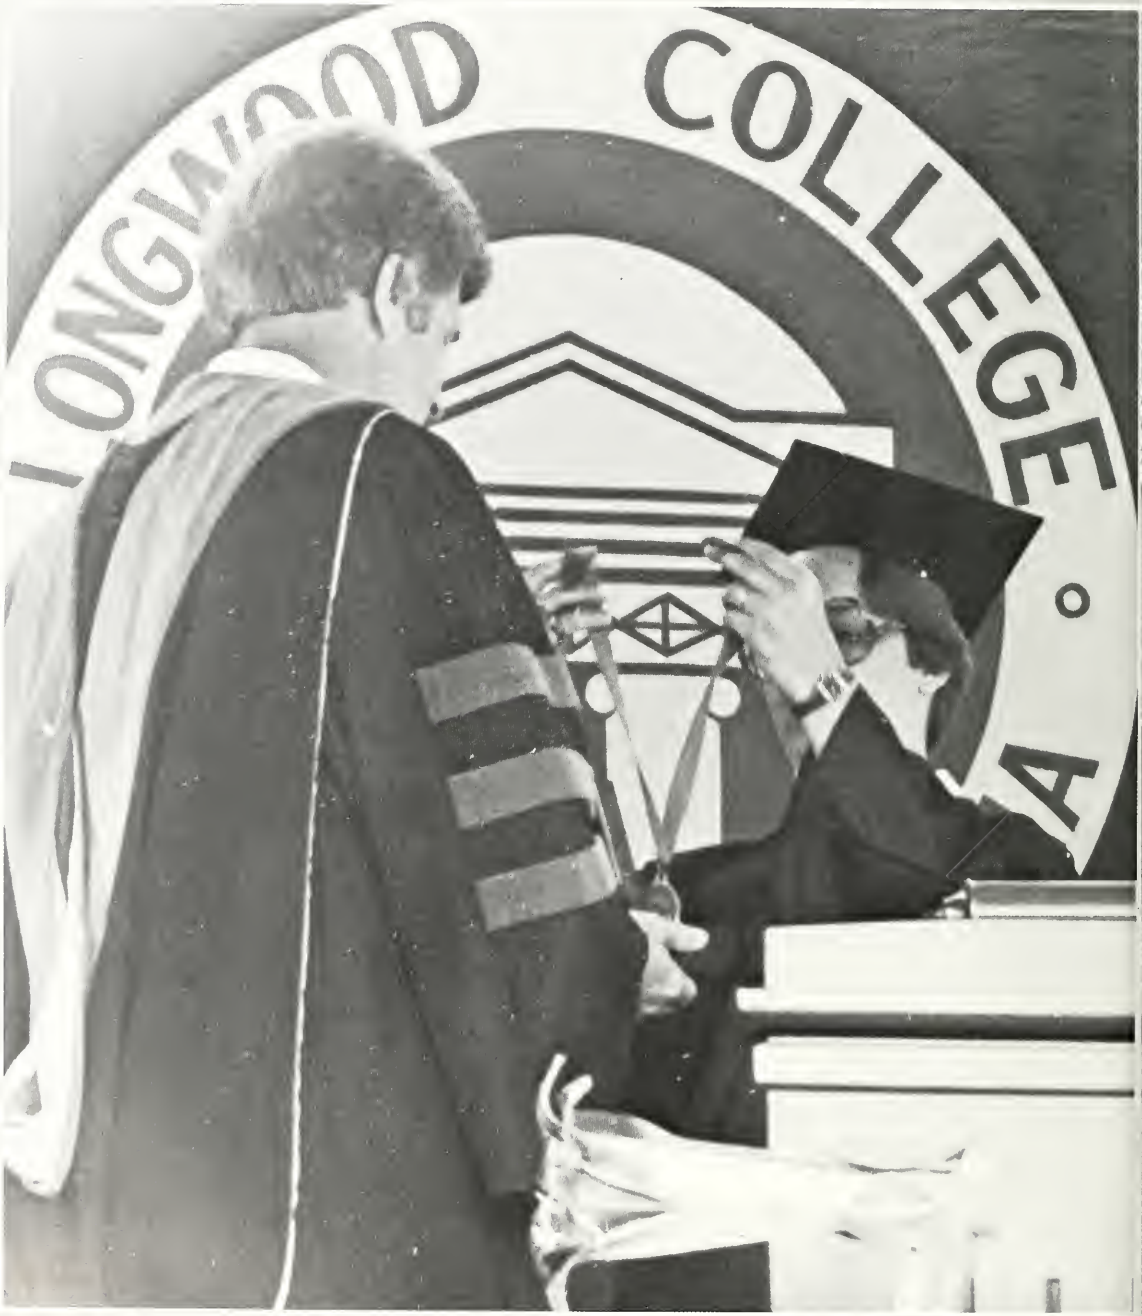
. . . Only The Journey Remains

For the 570 graduates of 1982, the air was charged with a current of thoughts: wistful reflections of the years spent at college . . . the growth of body, soul and mind during those years . . . the thought of "I'm out! I'm finally finished!" and the accompanying reaction of "But where do I go from here? I'm not finished, I'm only just beginning!"

"As the tassel is moved, so is a lifetime . . . for the paths are chosen, and only the journey remains." The Virginian wishes each and every graduate of the class of 1982 the best of luck in whatever path he or she has chosen.

Commencement



The faculty recognition award was given this year to Doctor Wayne Tinnell, a professor in the department of Natural Sciences.

Dear Students:
This edition of The Virginian has been the subject of many campus rumors. Now that you are holding it in your hands, you can see that it is indeed a hardback book, it is smaller than previous editions of The Virginian, and it also holds very little copy.

There are several reasons for the changes we have made in The Virginian. First, many college yearbook staffs are finding it more and more difficult to sell the large traditional yearbooks to their students. Secondly, as on many campuses, we found ourselves short-staffed and the work load was simply too large with a traditional book. Therefore, in order to fight back, we cut back. Lastly, we began actual work on The Virginian in January, because we had just chosen a company in December. We also decided to delete much of the copy usually found on the usual pages in the book. We did all this simply because it takes time, and we just didn't have the time we needed.

I would like to thank those people on my staff who worked their posteriors off. They are all very special to me and I couldn't have managed without their help and encouragement. Pamela Hughes was my Layout Editor, and she taught me just about everything involving a yearbook except for the photography. Pamela will have her proper place on the staff as editor of the 1982-1983 Virginian, and I wish her all the luck in the world. I would also like to thank Carolyn Tinsely, who kept me laughing when I was down, and Karen, and Jeanne Russell, who walked into the office second semester and made herself at home amidst piles of face shots and layout sheets. Many thanks also to my photographers, especially Philise Rowe, Joe Johnson, and Frank Bowman, and my advisor, I.B. Dent. Good luck to my main staff on next year's book!

I hope that this edition of The Virginian reflects many of your memories of the times we had together here at Longwood.

Together We Have Grown

It seems impossible that yet another chapter of our lives is over with. Over the year we shared tears, smiles, knowledge, and memories. We have taught each other and we have learned from each other. Together we have grown.

College wasn't all entirely a Merri-go-round, nor was it always the epitome of disaster. Before the year had elapsed the good and the bad managed to even themselves out. Classes versus parties, friends versus non-friends, and exams versus sleep lost studying for them.

We all remember different things about this school year since we all didn't attend the same mixers, concerts, parties, or have the same friends, but one thing we all shared was our love for Longwood in spite of all of the drudgery that goes along with any school.
